Water polo gives children the option of playing a ball sport in the water and it's an easy way for children to be active and have fun.

Water Polo is a fun way to help children understand how to play in a team so that different children with different skills can work together to achieve a goal. Passing and catching and the coordination required to do these things are the basic building block for playing many ball sports.

Water Polo is a fun way for children to learn and reinforce skills that are fundamental and transferable. Swimming is a core skill. Water Polo is a fun way to get children into the pool to learn and practice swimming. The better you swim the better the children can play. Water Polo is the fun way for children to feel comfortable in the water.
